“The heart of man plans his ways, but the Lord establishes his steps.”

When God calls us, He is the one who works all details together in order to glorify Himself and accomplish His plan! What a blessing to be included in His perfect plan!

Every day there are new things that excite me about this group of Hungarian leaders I have been called to influence. I feel so confirmed and encouraged that this is exactly where I should be. What a blessing that God promised He would lay my foundation and direct my steps. I have been working hard studying and training myself for excellence and committing myself to be diligent and wise in what direction to move forward in and what opportunities to prioritize. Also, I am continually praying and depending desperately for God to open doors and change hearts in this process. Thank you for striving in prayer along side me!

Eni, my disciple, is a joy! She has been through painful pruning recently. It is beautiful to see that in her hurt she runs to God and continues to be honest with Him, dependent on Him, and never ever wants to give up her faith or compromise. She is boldly sharing her faith with old friends and current co-workers. It is a privilege to see multiplication happening. Pray that her love for the Word would increase and that her faith would continue to become her own, independent from friends or outside influence.

I have started going to regular coaching appointments for personal growth. I want to experience the professional side of what people will be feeling when I am coaching them. It is personally challenging as well as an excellent professional experience. Please pray that I would act as a sponge and learn all that I can from these times especially in the areas of communication, motivating others, connectedness to others' hearts and team building.

Being a part of KEVE - a Christian Business Committee - is going well too. I, along with another man, have been asked to strategize and organize events and the inclusion of young professionals. Most of the committee is over 40, so it's been fun livening up discussions and targeting the younger future generation :) I feel incredibly honored to have the ear of people who are working right in the center of the nation's leadership.

Thank you for your partnership and prayers!
Much love,
Jodi

Prayer requests

- * Please pray for Eni as she is looking for a new job right now. Pray that God would provide a place where she can grow personally and professionally. Pray that God would open a door where she can be a great influence on her co-workers and also on other leaders of Hungary through her work and her personal example.
- * My next coaches training starts in a couple weeks and I can't wait! This is a very hands-on program where we apply what we learn immediately by practicing on each other. There are only 5 others in my class and my prayer is that through learning to coach them, God would speak truth into their hearts. How amazing would it be if they became Christians and all 6 of us would enter the executive world as coaches who desire to glorify God and influence leaders by leading them to Christ!
- * I am trying to start a seeker friendly Bible study within KEVE. There are a quite a few women who are interested, which is encouraging. However, time is always an obstacle. Please pray that this group of women would view a Bible study group as a priority and therefore make time to come!
