JDB Life

At the beginning of next week I will officially have a Hungarian life coaching company: JDB Life Inc.

I feel like I keep starting these letters with saying how excited I am :) Well, yet again, I feel these past weeks have offered an incredible step forward in being able to minister to Hungarian business leaders. God is pretty amazing at how He allows His perfect timing to guide and challenge me and also encourage me forward in making this calling and dream materialize. Next week I am sitting down with a lawyer and book keeper and am signing all the papers to start an official life coaching company. This is already proving to be another amazing opportunity and open door into offering advice and of course building relationships with this unique layer of society. This company will offer a leverage and confidence to back up my coaching work especially with people I do not know on a personal level. I have a lot of contacts and awesome references, but I need to start marketing myself and initiating with businesses and individuals who I do not naturally have personal access to before my networking circle thins out.

Praise God that I found a very trustworthy book keeper - the key foundation to all successful Hungarian businesses - who I enjoy working with and whom I am so thankful for because he will minimize the amount of time I personally will have to spend on admin to almost nothing.

All the additional responsibility has put a lot of extra pressure on me in having to make a bunch of important, long term decisions, especially in an area that is totally new for me. God continues to provide amazing advisors and little helps here and there at just the right timing to keep me on track and not let my feet slip being new to these processes. He will bring His perfect will to pass! I am so thankful for His guidance and direction.

Along with starting this Inc., I am working on getting a logo designed, a web sight constructed, a company email set up, and many more details to offer a marketing foundation that I will be launching soon.

I absolutely love starting new things. I love the excitement, the challenge, and most of all the absolute necessity to, by faith, solely rely on God through everything! Thank you so much for your huge part in creating this dream and fulfilling the calling God has given us of reaching Hungarian leaders!

Prayer requests

LeadingEdge
INTERNATIONAL

* Please pray for JDB Life Inc. :) Pray that I would continue to have advisors all along the way who I can trust to give accurate and wise council. Pray for my book keeper to catch everything in time so that there will be no mess ups or late fees or any complications of any kind (the legal system Hungary has for companies is ridiculous!). Pray for a reliance on the Holy Spirit amidst all the decisions and added responsibilities of these new situations that I have to face. And please pray that through JDB Life I would come in contact with many more Hungarian non-Christian leaders and be a witness to them of the truth and light of Christ.

* Please pray also for creativity and wisdom and simply time for me to sit quietly and hear God's voice so that I will not be moving forward even one step without knowing I am following Him. Pray for discernment and confidence in knowing that God has placed me in the lives of these leaders and that I would continue to shine brightly, making a difference through my words and actions and that these people would come to know their Creator as Lord and Savior of their personal lives. What a blessing to be used by Him!
